

DATE: May 22, 2019

2019 Heritage Provider Network Healthcare Innovation Awards Announces Winners

Winners honored at luncheon event recognizing healthcare trailblazers

Heritage Provider Network (HPN), one of the nation's leading physician-led managed care organizations, in partnership with Crain's New York Business, announced the winners in the fourth annual Heritage Healthcare Innovation Awards for transforming access to and quality of affordable healthcare in the New York metropolitan area.

Winners were announced in the following five categories at a luncheon ceremony at the New York Athletic Club in Manhattan on May 20, 2019.

Heritage Innovation in Healthcare Delivery Award: Mark Graham, LCSW, Vice President, Program Services, Coordinated Behavioral Care.

Recognizing an innovator in the development of new modes of diagnosis, treatment and care who actively improves access to services and improves the quality of healthcare overall.

Since joining Coordinated Behavioral Care in 2014, Mark Graham has transformed how New Yorkers with serious mental illness are integrated back into the community, one of CBC's array of innovative programs.

About Heritage Provider Network

Heritage Provider Network, Inc. (HPN) is one of the most experienced physician organization leaders of accountable care and continuous value-based healthcare delivery improvements. Developing and managing coordinated, patient-doctor centric, integrated health care systems that offers some of the strongest solutions for the future of health, care and cost in the United States. HPN and its affiliates operate in New York, California, Arizona and Missouri providing high quality, cost effective healthcare with over one million patient members and are dedicated to quality, affordable health care, and putting patients' wellness first. www.heritageprovidernetwork.com.